The first cheque of £1302 was presented to Emma Greaves, a first responder scheme co-ordinator from Ely MAGPAS, on the behalf of the Sutton British legion by the chairman Colin Kemp, and Becki Connor. The money was raised by the villagers of Sutton and the British Legion over a period of three years. Well done the Legion.

The second cheque of £985.50p was presented not once but twice again to Emma from MAGPAS, as it was raised by the locals of “The White Horse”, over the last year, and the bulk of which by a New Years Eve fancy dress party, and a raffle held in memory of Daniel Parish. The fantastic prizes in the raffle were extracted from local businesses and donated to the raffle by Daniels mum, Cheryl aided and abetted by Chris Watson, shown presenting the cheque, for the first time.

The second time the cheque was presented to Emma, was by one of the Horses locals Michael Spencer, still dressed in his winning nuns costume, and the Landlady (Tracy), and Landlord (Bill) of “The White Horse Inn” in Wicham, probably the best Real Ale pub in Cambridgeshire. Michael you must take the costume off now! it is September, but he would have nun of it.

The third cheque of £371 was presented to Vikki from “The Teenage Cancer Trust” via Sean McCann in photo, and Peter Banks unfortunately abroad, to go to “The Teenage Cancer Trust” the sum was raised by the locals of the White Horse and was presented to him to add to a huge sum of money that he and Peter raised for the Trust by Tracy and Bill, Landlady and Landlord of “The White Horse” Witcham. Sean decided when he was cleared of cancer to raise money for “The Teenage Cancer Trust” by completing an epic journey of cycling from Cambridge to Rome on a tandem with his mate Peter, and to date they have raised an incredible sum of over £15,000. Congratulations Sean and Peter.
Note - The tandem could not be there as by all accounts it broke in half in the Alps.
